Merging global research evidence with patient and carer insight to help shape the future

The Imagine Series is an innovative patient and public knowledge exchange programme. Devised and coordinated by VOICE, a citizen involvement network, and delivered in collaboration with the NIHR Innovation Observatory and the UK National Innovation Centre for Ageing, the series brings together three national centres of excellence with the VOICE of the people.

Using established evidence synthesis methods and world class horizon scanning techniques, our knowledge exchange model provides patients and carers with an overview of the global research landscape and innovation pipeline.

We aim to identify and map the unmet needs and main concerns of citizens through:

- Informed discussion with patients and carers
- The use of gap analysis and priority setting exercises
- The joint exploration of key issues and challenges with key opinion leaders

The Imagine Series gives a VOICE to patients and carers; enabling them to access, debate and discuss research evidence and innovation. The series provides patients with the opportunity to influence the way in which the needs of their condition are understood and treated.
